WHY PALAMA HOSPITAL MAY CLOSE

Duplication Of Work For Which the Queen's Provides

Perley Horne, President of the Board of Trustees has made a statement covering the reasons for closing the Palama General Hospital. This puts the facts before the public as against many false statements that have been made:

That the Palama General Hospital will close at the end of August has not as yet been definitely decided, but is now under consideration by the Board of Trustees.

The following facts concerning the hospital and its work may be of interest to the friends of the institution:

The hospital was originally started by the Chinese, the land being given by the government and the money for most of the buildings being raised by subscription among the white and Chinese merchants and private individuals. It was conducted for many years largely by the Chinese, but owing to their steadily decreasing numbers and the heavy expense attending its operation, they decided to give it up some two years ago. At that time it was represented that it was filling a needed place in the community, and if certain repairs were made and the hospital thrown open to all nationalities it could be run at a moderate outlay.

During the past two years several thousand dollars have been spent in improvements and repairs, and several trained nurses employed and everything done to bring the hospital and its equipment up to a high standard of efficiency. The results have been quite gratifying, the number of patients at the hospital averaging from ten to eighteen most of the time. There have been a large number of successful operations performed by various surgeons of the city, and without exception the treatment and care of patients has been highly satisfactory to the physicians who have had patients there.

The expense, however, of conducting the institution has been large, averaging about four hundred dollars per month over and above all receipts. It has also been found that the hospital has to quite an extent come into competition with the Queen's Hospital, and that most of the patients treated at Palama could have been treated equally as well at the Queen's. In this respect, therefore, it is duplicating the work of the Queen's Hospital, which is so well able to care for all those in need of a hospital. This is doubly true since the Queen's has opened its general wards to all the physicians of the city, and a patient is not compelled to engage a private room if he wishes his own physician to treat him, as was the case two years ago.

In a few months the Children's Hospital will be completed and well equipped to treat and care for children of all nationalities, having both private rooms and public wards. As it is located within a mile of Palama, it will naturally tend to draw that class of patients from Palama, and such an institution should receive the support of the community in every way possible.

The above named facts seem to the management strong reasons why it is unnecessary to longer conduct the Palama Hospital. There are so many worthy institutions on these islands that need the support of all those able to give it that it seems unwise to duplicate work that is now being well conducted. It seems evident that the amount of money which it now takes to carry on the Palama Hospital could accomplish more good to the community if spent in preventive work, such as the settlements are doing with their dispensaries, pure milk depots, and district nurses. There is also much that should be done in the line of preventing the spread of tuberculosis and providing means to help those in the first stages of this disease. These lines of preventive work appeal very strongly to those interested in the support of the hospital. However, if it is made plainly evident that the city needs such an institution as the Palama Hospital, and the physicians and others interested can demonstrate that it would be a distinct loss to the community to have it closed, the trustees are ready and willing to consider its continuance for another year.

NOTES APPEAL

Fujikawa, a Japanese was up before Judge Andrade Thursday morning on a charge of being unlawfully on the premises of A. F. Judd. It appears that the accused was discovered by one of the inmates of the house, asleep in the room of the nurse, who also is a Japanese.

Fujikawa pleaded guilty this morning and was sentenced to nine months on the reef. Later on C. F. Chillingworth appeared and noted an appeal in the case.
